

Internship FAQs

When does the internship take place?

The internship is scheduled in Semester 3 and runs during the official internship period defined in the semester planning.

Can I start earlier?

Yes. You may start earlier or extend beyond the official period, but:

- The internship overlaps with the official internship period.
- Academic approval is obtained before starting.
- No conflicts arise with lectures, exams, or visa regulations.

Can I do my internship abroad?

Yes, you may complete your internship internationally with a legally registered company.

However:

- The internship must not be completed in your home country.
- The scope must align with the study program..
- Academic approval is required.

Can I start earlier or extend beyond the official period?

Yes, provided:

- The official internship period overlaps with your contract.
- Academic approval is granted.
- There is no conflict with thesis registration.
- Maximum overlap with thesis: 2 weeks.

What are the exact start and end dates?

Exact dates are defined in the semester planning. Students should refer to official semester schedules and confirm with the Head of Department if needed.

Is there a minimum wage?

There is no mandatory minimum wage requirement for internships in Germany. Payment depends on company policy.

What is the required duration?

The internship carries 30 ECTS, corresponding to a total workload of approximately:

750–900 hours

This includes:

- Company-based work
- Independent academic work
- Documentation and reporting
- Presentation preparation
- Supervision and reflection

How many company hours are required?

Company hours typically represent the majority of the workload (e.g., 600–750 hours). The remaining workload consists of:

- Report writing
- Evaluation and analysis
- Academic reflection

- Viva preparation

All components together must reflect the 30 ECTS workload.

Will working hours before official approval count?

No. Only approved internship periods can be recognized.

Can I start earlier or extend beyond the official period?

Yes, provided:

- The official internship period overlaps.
- Academic approval is granted.
- No conflict arises with thesis registration.
- Maximum 2 weeks overlap with thesis is permitted.

Can I do my internship during a semester break?

No.

Internships completed during a semester break cannot be counted toward the mandatory internship module.

When should I register?

Start the registration process 2–3 months before your intended start date.

How do I register?

Contact the Career Service Department to request the mandatory internship letter and forms. Students need the mandatory internship letter, only if a company really asks for it. There are a lot of companies, that do not require this form.

- There are no SRH forms, that the company need to fill out, just the internship contract that comes from the company itself.
- Submit all documents to CampusWeb – My Studies – My Requests – Internship Approval Request
- Wait for the approval

What documents are required?

From the company:

- Internship contract (with duties described)
- Completion confirmation letter

From the university:

- Mandatory internship letter (if required by the company)

How do I obtain the mandatory internship letter?

Write an email to the Career Service Department to request it. As they have many clarification requests, contact them well in advance to get the letter and other required information.

Can a Werkstudent position count?

A working student position may be recognized only if:

- The scope aligns academically.
- Academic approval is granted.
- The total workload reaches 750–900 hours.
- The internship remains a continuous engagement.

Recognition is not automatic.

Can my current part-time job count?

Yes, but compliance with legal and visa regulations is the student's responsibility.

Can I split my internship across companies?

No. The internship must be a single continuous engagement.

Can I attend modules while interning?

Yes, the university does not prohibit this. However:

- The workload must be manageable.
- Visa regulations must be respected.
- Academic performance must not be affected.

Can I combine internship and thesis?

No. The internship must be completed before thesis registration.

Maximum overlap permitted: 2 weeks.

Can I take a semester break during the internship?

Yes, but:

- Semester breaks must be approved by Student Service.
- Internship completed during a semester break cannot be recognized for the mandatory module.

Can I attend classes during a full-time internship?

If both internship and classes are full-time, workload management and visa compliance are the student's responsibility.

What is the thesis workload?

The Master's thesis corresponds to approximately 30 ECTS (~750–900 hours).

Can I work full-time during my thesis?

Visa and legal implications must be clarified by the student. The thesis workload is considered full-time academic work.

How is the internship graded?

Assessment includes:

- Completion of 750–900 total workload hours
- Final technical report
- 10–15 minute presentation
- Viva examination
- Company evaluation

Grading is based on:

- Technical depth
- Analytical rigor
- Independent contribution
- Critical reflection
- Communication quality

Is maintaining a weekly log required?

Not mandatory, but strongly recommended for documentation and report preparation.

Does the university support internship search?

Yes, Career Service provides support and industry contacts. Check regularly through Job Teaser Portal

However, the primary responsibility lies with the student.

What skills should I highlight?

- Python, R, SQL
- Machine Learning frameworks
- Deep Learning
- Generative AI
- NLP
- Data visualization
- Statistical analysis
- Applied projects
- Communication and teamwork skills

What if I cannot find an internship?

If you cannot find an internship, you will be automatically registered to the regular modules.

I got a 6-month internship contract after the official internship semester. What can I do?

You can continue the internship in the next batch internship period, and once finished, you can register for the thesis. You also need to take a semester break.
